

Press release

LA RONDE "FOTOS" OF YESTERYEAR

At the western fringe of Fort Edmonton, a young man barks an original souvenir: by putting on any one of a number of costumes from his colourful wardrobe, you may obtain a fine portrait of yourself as soldier, man of leisure, or other personage from times gone by to take home in a small oval frame of exceptional charm.

For a few dollars, it's a rare opportunity to obtain an unusual portrait for the family album while discovering at the same time, forgotten resemblances with time long past.