VIENNA AND ITS IMPERIAL TREASURES

Music, art and cuisine are the major themes of Vienna's participation at Man and His World this season. Consequently, the legendary city of Vienna offers a taste of its vast store of cultural riches with its pavilion named "Vienna and its Imperial Treasures".

The music of Vienna, whose renown transcends every border, will take its place of honour in this pavilion that entertained 230,000 visitors last season. Among other memorable presentations, its video screens will play the traditional New Year's concert by the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra.

The Viennese café-cinema shows films of Austria in an authentically Austrian atmosphere - a perfect primer for a trip to that beautiful land.

For gourmets of Austrian cuisine, the pavilion restaurant offers almost every dish made famous by its illustrious chefs. To double your dining pleasure, musicians play gentle Viennese airs that make you savour every bite.

The sculptures of Wander Bertoni, specially selected from among Vienna's treasury of artworks, occupy a special place at the pavilion.

First quality products from Vienna firms are on display, and a glass-blower performs his handiwork for visitors.

So, comme on in and waltz to the music of the immortal Johann Strauss and his city.
